1960 MARYLAND STATE COLLEGE 1960
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

DEDICATION

In 1960. one of the best loved men of Maryland State College relinquishes his popular title. "Prof.." and becomes Mr. Oliver. gentleman from Virginia. Throughout the years. the courtly grace of our First Gentleman has influenced men of Maryland State to stand taller, speak more gently, and behave more ideally when he passed by. His teaching has radiated an influence far beyond our College walls. His great character. made greater by the difficult calling to teach, enveloped the lives of countless students of past and present generations.

When the door of Trigg Hall 102 closes behind "Prof." in the spring of 1961, we at Maryland State College will be a poorer people, but the influence of Professor Julius A. Oliver, who so gladly learns and gladly teaches, is our permanent wealth. Since "Prof." is leaving us and because we will miss him sorely, in gratitude we give him our book.

THE PRESIDENT OF MARYLAND STATE COLLEGE:
DR. JOHN TAYLOR WILLIAMS

As Maryland State College approaches her golden jubilee year, President Williams may count with pride the doors of opportunity he has opened for class after class of hopeful students whose only keys have been determination and the desire for knowledge. Builder of our house of intellect as well as our physical homes and doors, Dr. Williams continues his great task with determination and enthusiasm. Hawks everywhere salute our gallant President.

THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND:
THE HONORABLE J. MILLARD TAWES

The warm and friendly man who visited our campus two years ago and made an unforgettable impression of strong leadership continues to serve the citizens of Maryland with such dedication and strength that we take pride in his being our Eastern Shore neighbor as well as our friend.

Foreword

At some colleges, high and ivied walls surround buildings, teachers, and students; their doors are hard to find. At Maryland State College, our spacious campus and towering halls assure those coming to seek a new life here that no high forbidding barriers shut them out, that here to knock is to open wide. When the door is opened and he who has knocked can enter and begin a new life, he gives the lie to the dead Victorian poet; he will hear "great argument," but he will never pass out by the same intellectual door through which he went. We are encompassed by a cloud of witnesses to this truth—the Class of 1961.

In 1960, as in years gone by, many doors opened at Maryland State College, for some of us for the first time. Many doors opened, for upper classmen, especially seniors, for the last time. Well remembered friends stood ready to assist both new student and old to "open the door to good fame." Lest we forget the profound and subtle changes wrought upon us within the doors of our alma mater, the members of the staff of THE HAWK present their record of the life of students and faculty who, in 1960, sought and found that at Maryland State College to ask was to have, to seek was to find, to knock was to open wide.

Out-of-doors they are a hard working faculty.

Indoors they work hard. Dr. Stone of Business Ed. addresses Faculty Institute group.

They chat about poultry and poetry on the banks of the Pocomoke River.

But out-of-doors they also like to play.

Out-of-doors again they relax at Institute Picnic with Dr. Williams as host.

Again indoors; again hard at work. (l. to r.); Webb, Cracken. Strickland, F. Williams, Hill, Stout, Stone, Jacobs, Wallace.

ORGANIZATIONS
Benj. Williams

Men's Senate (l. to r.): Pritchett, Muse (President), Brothers, Gould.

Organized life revolved around Student Government. This was the year of the athletes and the eggheads: Gould. Chemistry and baseball, steered the Student Council through a year of benefits such as the Sunday snack and the opening of the Recreation Lounge supervised by Council members. Muse, the football great and HAWK's sports editor (both '60 and '61), guided the Senate through a fine year. Crosse of the dazzling intellect. Who's Who, and much else, was women's choice to steer them through 1960. When doors opened for Class of 1964, there stood brilliant, capable J. Tolson to welcome its members and to channel to them the many services of Student Counselors.

The Pan-Hellenic Council (l. to r.): Polk, Pinder, Johnson, Muse, Brown, Carter (President), Brothers, Napper, Gould, Reed.

Above and on the next page are organizations that monitor the doorway to financial opportunity and the mansions of the spiritual life at MSC. The YM and the YW respectively: brought us face to face with the challenging issues of the 1960 Presidential campaign in a memorable open forum of outstanding candidates for state and national offices; set the customary high tone of the Lenten life. Wesleyans brought the Reverend Dr. Walter Hazzard of Tindley Methodist Church, Philadelphia, to us; Newmanites continued their quiet charity. Hayes Loan Fund helped the needy. Pan-Hellenes kept a firm grip on fraternity and sorority high jinks during initiations.

The Young Women's Christian Association, Barbara Wright, President.

ACTIVITIES OF STAGECRAFTERS

Scenes From "Girl In The Rain"

We're on! Make-up staff at work; Marcus Willis (with Dorothy Harley); Charis Crosse (with John Harris); Martha and Mary Moore (with Sylvia Giles and Helen Chester); Mary Love (with Harry Brown).

Society Columnist (Harley) drops bombshell while interviewing bride (Aleta Weedon) and groom (Theodore Richardson, Stagecrafters President). Mother of the groom (Sylvia Giles) looks on.

"Was it the butler that done it?" James Phipps and Leona Ross (the maid) in verbal clash that thickens plot.

Music! Music! Music!

Right, the white-and-maroon robed choir is caught by the camera in a formal setting. Below: Band, choir, guest organist Anderson thrill a music-loving campus.

In club meetings, students speak of many things: Books and ledgers and news stories and the quality of a poem; the latest in office automation, the political campaigns, the discovery of a new poet. From one year to the next there are these cherished, mind-quickening organizations that help make college life fun as well as work. THE HAWK says, "Well done," to officers and members of all clubs such as the above, which are doing their part in adding to information and giving practice in discriminating ideas.

THE HOME ECONOMICS STORY

Here are the Home Economics girls with their one male constituent. The Department turns an epochal corner in decision to emphasize further the fields of nutrition and textiles. Increasing complexity of the nutrition field, wide opportunities for graduates in urban centers where hospitals and other agencies require trained personnel dictate college training needs. A growing fabrics industry that emphasizes synthetics determines new directions in clothing classes, requiring that knowledge of textiles be broad and deep.

FEATURES

HOMECOMING: 1960

Homecoming means the welcome mat, joyful reunions, pep rallies, bonfires, the parade, the big football game. But most of all Homecoming is the open door where stands the girl of our dreams and ideals. The Coronation is the most glamorous event of the Homecoming Season at MSC, and in a holiday atmosphere last fall stately and beautiful Lois Kelly, '62, a biology major who plans a career in research, and one of the most popular and best loved co-eds ever to wear the crown of Miss Maryland State, began her reign.

The Grand Entrance.

The most thrilling moment of all: Major Cracken crowns Miss Maryland State.

Miss Betty Wolfe presents the sceptre to the Queen.

The Queen sits with her court.

The Grand Exit. The Queen leaves and carries with her the sincerest wishes of everyone for a successful reign.

HAWK Editor Davidson escorts Lettermen's Queen, Bernice Hite, in Processional.

At the Reception: The Queen's court receives Hello's, Thank you's, Good Wishes, Congratulations.

The Queen helps to solve three problems—a headache, a math problem, and a backache!

Miss Maryland State adorns THE HAWK.

AKA Soror Averill Rainey says, "Phew! This is a job."

It's not hard at all when there's team work! It's real fun!

The Freshman Float leads the way.

Lovely Lottie Bivens, perched high on the Sophomore Float, gives that "Pepsodent" smile.

The game is over. Crowd leaves the field. Thus ends another Homecoming. Station M-S-C signing off . . .

HONORED FOR SCHOLASTIC ACHIEVEMENTS.

WOMAN OF THE YEAR, 1961

Charis Crosse, whose collegiate honors and achievements are numerous, brought dignity, resourcefulness, industry, and a fine sense of humor to her position as President of the Women's Council and the women's choice as their representative Woman of the Year. Below are incidents in the life of a popular leader whose genuine scholarliness has never interfered with her love of people and her lively interest in all phases of college life. "2": With other members of Who's Who L. to R.: Dean James D. Singletary, Randall, Crosse, Jenkins, Weatherby, Mills.

"3": She hears address on Women's Day by Dr. Nancy W. McGee, Professor of English, Hampton Institute. "4": She receives trophy on Military Day for outstanding performance in her major, English. "5": She receives her first membership in National Council of English Teachers from Professor Mary F. Burks, gift of the English Department teachers. "6": With her parents, Reverend Crosse and Mrs. Crosse, Dr. McGee, and Dean Gibbs, she receives well wishers Faith Williams, Norma Ferguson.

Everyone's anxious to get rolling.

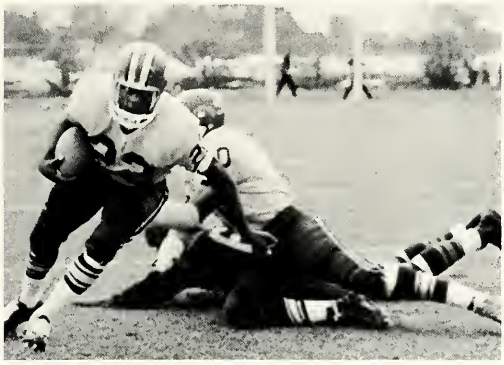

Here they come!! The Mighty Hawks!!

Skip gives pre-game instructions.

"Shorty" Gray is on the move. Hobbs and Miller pave the way.

Johnny Price throws the block that springs Danny Miller toward another touchdown.

"If anybody asks you who we are . we're the C I DOUBLE A Champs!"

Muse scores the second of his touchdowns against Morgan after Davidson opens the pathway.

Van Ness and Taylor confer with "Pop" Watson during Time-Out.

That mighty forward wall being engineered by "Beau" Brown is unstoppable.

"Victory! Victory! That's our Cry!"

THE BIG M

A SALUTE TO THE CIAA CHAMPS 1960-1961

Bob Ford
Center
South Carolina

Coach—Vernon McCain

So ends another illustrious chapter in the coaching career of Vernon "Skip" McCain.

The Hawk over-all record was 6-1-1; they bowed only to Southern Connecticut, a non-conference opponent. During McCain's fourteen years at MSC, the scoreboard reads 84 wins, 13 defeats, and 4 ties. Over this span, he has produced 3 undefeated and untied teams, '49, '50, '55. He produced CIAA Champions in '54, '55, '57, and now in '60.

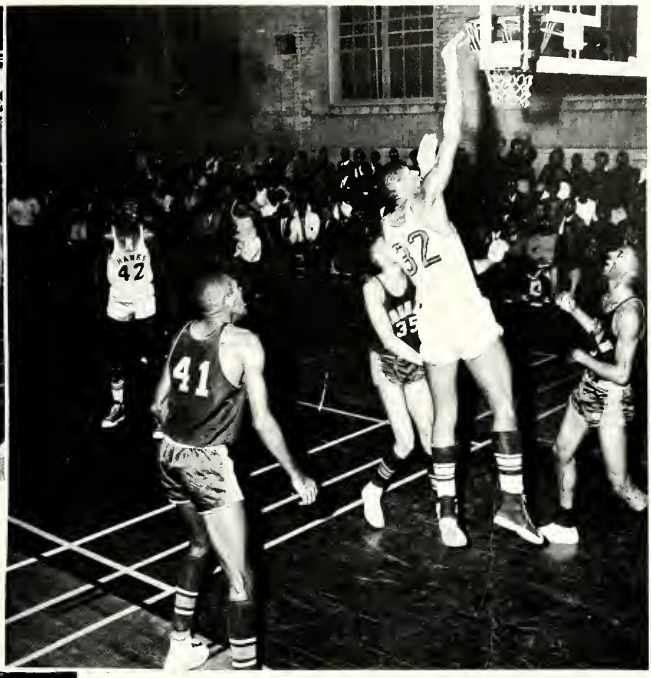

Only one season, '58, has Mac lost as many as three games in one campaign.

2-4-6-8. Yes! We do appreciate Our Cheerleaders!

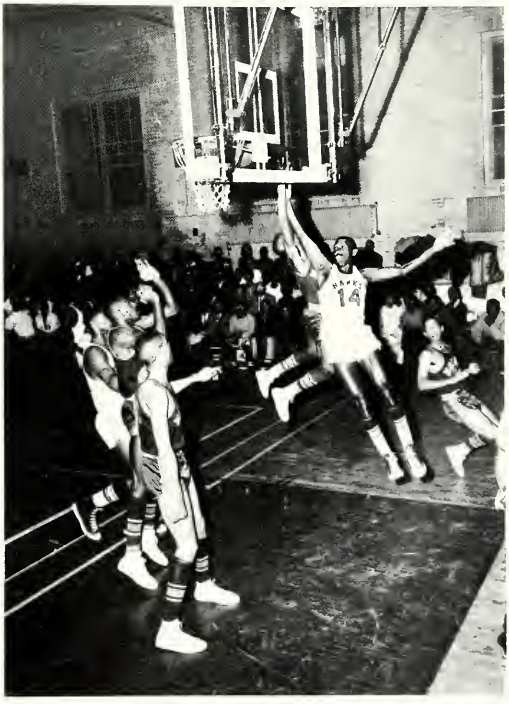

Al Santio does a dual job of grabbing the rebounds and going back up for the two points.

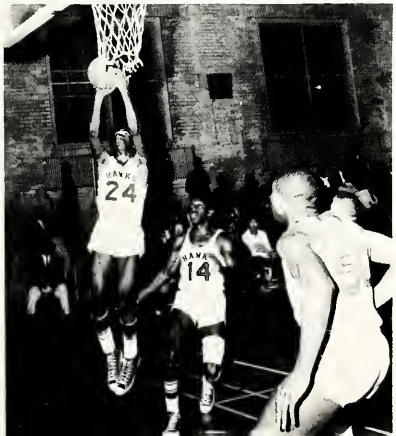

Aw, come on, Fellows, perk up. Things can't be that bad. Besides, you've got another half.

Take that! Dave Riddick drives in to score two and the mighty Hawk cagers are on the move again.

Eddie Williams gets "hot" and starts the ball rolling.

Jesse Williams

At the Queens Iona Meet MSC captured many events. Here Jackie Ballard wins by a "head" to take the 120-yd. High Hurdles.

The past two years Jim Phipps has carried the baton superbly for Maryland State.

In the Low Hurdles a Marine steps out with Napier, DeLaine, and Bond in hot pursuit.

The Eastern Shore Relay produced many thrills here. Above Anchorman Danny Miller breaks the tape with an all-out effort as MSC wins the 440-yd. Relay.

Another thriller was Charley Mays and Ed Collymore on the first leg of the 880-yard Relay.

Leroy Burchett "brings home the bacon" on the last round of that race.

Russell Rogers gives it that "Tongue in Teeth" determination as he runs neck and neck with Jackie Ballard at Fort Lee.

Charley Mays goes up and over the high bar as he competes with Bob Barksdale in the high jump.

Miller and Crutchfield run first and second in the Hundred at the Eastern Shore Relay.

Massive Boh Neider, No. 1 of the "Big Three" in the Shotput, was one of the many track greats at MSC for the 'Shore Relays.

Bond, Ballard, Delaine and Batts monopolize field in the high hurdles. Guess who won!

"Cookie" Bush shows his AAU winning form to the crowd in the Hop, Step, and Jump.

Remembrance of Days Past

SQUEEZE PLAY: Against Hampton Charlie Holmes rushes in on a bunt while Harold Gray prepares to make the throw to Bo Brown covering First.

Eddie Cruz covers home plate and makes the putout against Hampton.

Get ready, Curtis, any time now!

THE SQUAD—L. to R., Front: Gray, Jones, Price, Dent, Bruce, Tanner, Holmes. Second Row: Van Ness, Warren, Curtis, Brown, Hobbs, Taylor, Barnett, Coach. Third Row: Newman, Cobb, Hamilton, Williams, Diggs, Gould, Chapman.

Big Three Conference. Coach Barnett, one-time all-star at Maryland State College, confers with Captain Dennis Tanner and Harold Gray, national College Batting Champion, .535-1960.

Four-armed powerhouses! "Larry" Newman, "House" Gray, "Bear" Van Ness, "Houdini" Jones.

Are you LISTENING, fellas?

They passed this way this year:

Reverend Leroy Williams, Speaker for Design-for-Living Week, receives gift of student body from Student Council President Charles Gould.

Dover Air Force Base Choral-Airs in annual recital here, Captain Porter, USAF, Director.

House of Beauty Representatives conducted clinic on grooming and body care; picture shows session on posture.

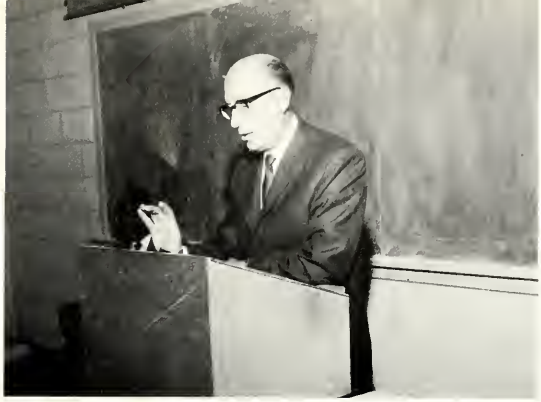

Father Hugh Miller of Westover discusses Dante's "Inferno" with students in World Literature.

Visiting Professor Yar Chomichy of Penn State demonstrates water color techniques as art majors look on.

International authority on Africa I. J. K. Wells, New York, lectures on African art.

Dr. R. Lee Hornbake, Vice President, University of Maryland, addressed faculty.

Dr. Walter Hazzard, Tindley Chapel, Philadelphia, was chapel speaker for Wesley Foundation.

Woman's Day Speaker was Dr. Nancy McGee, Professor of English, Hampton Institute, Hampton, Virginia.

Mrs. Beatrest Henry, accompanist for Dover Choral-Airs, played Chopin during intermission.

The Reverend Grady W. Poulard, New York, delivered message under auspices of YWCA, Barbara Wright, President.

Monsieur Pierre Palmond, Cultural Attache of France in New York City, discussed importance of foreign-language competence.

WITH THE ALUMNI

Founders' Day Speaker this year was the Reverend Crawford L. Trader, '26, District Superintendent, Eastern District, Delaware Conference, Methodist Church.

President J. T. Williams receives Alumni Citation from National President Roma Jones, '39, in recognition of growth of institution under Dr. Williams' leadership.

Maddox, '04, receives Alumni Service Award for forty years of service to Alumni organization. Center: Miss Bernice Jenkins, '60, winner of first Alumni Senior Scholarship Award. Right: Mr. Roma Jones, '39, receives 1960 Alumni Achievement Award from National Treasurer Theodore Henson, '49.

AS THE DOOR CLOSES ON THE HAWK, 1960 . . .

Our production began with that sine qua non, a dedicated staff of photographers, none anywhere more dedicated than our wonderful men. At first, while experienced staffers were on hand, work moved swiftly. Then apprentice teaching swept the seniors away, and associates began to have the headaches. Staff problems eased when a minor miracle took place: Along came experts Harry Brown and Robert Ford, not originally staff members, and coverage of sports and AFROTC became as easy as a quarterback sneak or landing a jet. Final sessions into the small hours over hamburgers or whatever was in the nearest kitchen gave THE HAWK his wings. Once again he is airborne, to come to rest in the hands of his eager and admiring (we hope) readers.

Editor Cal Davidson opens the door on the 1960 Year of the HAWK.

Busman's Holiday: Staff Photographers Mr. Wiles, L. Wickes, and D. Stewart, men who love their work, get some practice.

Art Editor A. Costley, surfeited with photographs, turns to contemplate her "Self (she says) Portrait."

Features Editor Irma Polk, a dedicated girl, interviews football stars who signed for professional careers: "House" Gray, Hobbs, "Shorty" Gray.

Says H. Brown, holding down Sports Editorship, "All God's players got shoes."

R. Ford, in charge of AFROTC editorial chores, looks at representation of best idea the Air Force ever had—to create Angels.

Business Manager Sammy Qualls rushes out to sell—what else?—HAWK to a likely prospect, Dr. Stout.

Here is Staff Correspondent Carolyn Thompson doing some important corresponding.

Lay-Out Editor Sonia Moody declares: "Away, all pictures! The job is done for '61!"

Roger Stewart, ex-'63, and now of Paris, France, courtesy of the USAF, by his example encourages us to say that:

IN MARYLAND
NEARLY EVERY ONE READS "THE HAWK"

Our Editor closes the door on the Year of the Hawk, 1961.

Thanks, Mr. Wiles!
